According to NGO MANS, it is necessary to adopt a moratorium on further implementation of the contract with the consortium ENI/Novatek, until its validity is examined by the relevant EU experts who have much more knowledge and experience in this field. Although the new Montenegrin government has promised citizens an audit of all contracts signed by the previous regime, Minister Bojanić confidently claims that everything is fine with two largest projects such as oil exploration and highway construction. However, when the decision on this deal was made, the then independent MP did not vote for it or publicly support the plans of the former government, as he is doing now from the position of the Minister of Capital Investments. 01/04/2021

In an interview with Monitor, the executive director of the NGO MANS, as the head of the Expert Team of the National Council for the Fight against High-Level Corruption, explains how (in)compatible her engagement is with her engagement in the civil sector. On that occasion, she stated: "We must try to find out where hundreds of millions or billions of euros taken out of Montenegro ended up. The attempt of political exponents of corrupt individuals to turn us off the road with a general cacophony will certainly fail." MANS obtained documentation showing that contrary to the law, the previous government approved an extension of the deadline for completion of research to the consortium of offshore companies Eni Montenegro and Novatek Montenegro from the Netherlands, although it had all the conditions to collect a guarantee of 85 million euros. The agreement on the concession for the production of hydrocarbons with ENI/Novatek, which stipulates that the initial oil and gas exploration lasts four years, was signed by the Government on September 14, 2016, while in mid-February last year, the Consortium submitted a request for an extension of one year, which the Government of Duško Marković accepted and instead of activating the guarantee, it allowed an extension of one year, i.e. until September 14, 2021. 10/04/2021

A new MANS' investigation shows that oil and gas exploration companies have borrowed 70m euros from parent companies. Until these loans with the corresponding interest are paid, the state will not have any income from the income tax of oil companies, according to the Law on Hydrocarbons adopted by the previous government. However, the Ministry of Capital Investments says that we will pay "only" market interests, and they continue to claim that the contract is good. MANS calls on the Ministry to use the mechanisms provided for in the contract and hire international experts to urgently audit the reported costs of oil and gas exploration, because this practice is reminiscent of withdrawing money from Aluminium Plant Podgorica (KAP) through loans from related companies. 20/04/2021

At the debate on changes in the State Prosecutor's Office, the executive director of MANS points out the undisputed dismissal of the top State Prosecutor's Office, but in a legitimate way. "If the dismissals in the State Prosecutor's Office are not legitimate, the consequences can be catastrophic. Imagine that new prosecutors initiate proceedings against an official for corruption, then there is a dismissal of the government, which again changes the State Prosecutor's Office, and then their prosecutors withdraw the indictments. This would mean that this person could never be prosecuted again for these crimes." On this occasion, she also emphasized that we do not need a public debate because of the Venice Commission or the European Union but because of us, in order to build a different Montenegro where decisions will no longer be made behind anyone's closed doors." 23/04/2021
